Deputies' Meeting

Thursday, 11 December 1952

PRESENT: General Smith, Messrs. Dulles, Wisner, Wolf, Hedden, Amory (for part of the meeting), [redacted]

General Smith stated he was gratified at the number of station chiefs being returned for Headquarters' duty and their replacement by Headquarters' personnel. In a discussion of replacements for station chiefs, the Director stated we should consider officers from both sides of the Agency who were mature career employees and after selection should be given a course of instruction prior to assignment as a station chief. The Director went on to say that replacements for the larger stations such as [redacted] should be selected from the AD level and the incumbents at these stations serve tours of duty at Headquarters on the Assistant Director or Deputy Assistant Director level. The Director then briefly discussed a replacement for [redacted] assignment in Headquarters.

Mr. Dulles:
